

OCEANS MERGE-© Oceans Merge Music

Oceans merge left, Oceans merge right

The blues and green shimmer in the sunlight

White waves splash with delight

Bringing healing strength and new life.

Birds hover overhead, whales glide underneath

Boats sail onwards, on shore men should keep

For beauty beholds these oceans that merge

But wild they will be and some they will purge.

They come from the north, they come from the south

East and west blow and join on the shores

Pushing and pulling heaving and ho

Till peace comes on waters that ebb and flow.

Gone are the rough seas where pirates did row

Fought hard and bloody and many did go

Love always high above, never below

Now the oceans merge gently so others will know.
